GUARD ON MAIL CAR FIRES A DEATH BULLET AT NEGRO

Newman, Ga., Nov. 19.—An unidentified negro mail bandit was shot and killed instantly tonight by Detective R. M. Simons, of the U. S. Marine Corps, on duty as a mail guard in the mail car of Atlanta and West Point Train No. 37, as the train drew into the station here. Simons discovered the negro, who was sliding stealthily from the top of the train through the rear door. Simons ordered the negro to halt, but he continued to advance into the car. Simons fired once—to kill. The negro fell dead instantly.

The negro is the first person killed under new orders sent out by the navy and postoffice department telling marines to shoot to kill. If the mails are endangered.

Shooting Held Justified

Chief Askey, of the Newman police force, who was standing in the depot, heard the shot and was the first to reach the car. The train was held while he conducted an investigation. He then decided Pri-

Simons was fully justified, and allowed him to proceed with the train.

No Confederate Found

It was believed the negro had banded the train when it slowed down for the station. His method of approach was said to be that followed by experienced mail robbers. A search of the vicinity failed to disclose any confederates. The body was removed to an undertaking establishment, and postal inspectors began at once an effort to identify it.

REFORM SUFFERS HEAVY DAMAGE FROM HAIL

Pickens County Herald says:

According to information reaching Carrollton late Wednesday afternoon Reform suffered heavily from a hail and rain storm that visited that section at 3:00 o'clock, resulting in heavy damage to business houses and dwellings. The cloud approached Reform from the west and was the second of the week that brought hail to this place from the same direction. The Herald has been unable to trace the storm any further west than Coalfire, a small station on the Mobile & Ohio railroad, but from there into Reform it is reported to have been an unusually heavy deluge of hail stones and rain.

engagement with Thomas their working all day Tuesday he went to her home, a short distance south of Lee Street crossing of the A. C. L. railroads. A quarrel ensued, two shots were fired, one taking effect in her breast, the other in her throat. It is supposed she sprang from the bed and fell dead on the floor. Thomas ran, across the railroad a short distance, shot himself through the head and fell dead with the pistol grasped in his hand. There was a woman in an adjoining room but fearing the man she made a quick "get-out-of-the-house", not stopping to investigate. City Marshal W. C. Connel quickly arrived and the frightened colored people were induced to go to the man's body and one jumped on it and got the pistol. Both bodies were laid out side by side. Sheriff Reeves was notified and as an inquest was not necessary a permit was given for burial which took place Wednesday afternoon.
